GENERAL LETTER NO. 6-D-25

ISSUED BY: Bureau of Family Investment, Division of Economic Assistance

SUBJECT: Employees' Manual, Title 6, Chapter D, Refugee Cash Assistance, Title page, revised; Contents (pages 1 and 2), revised; and pages 1 through 35, revised.

Summary

This general letter transmits the revised 6-D, Refugee Cash Assistance.

The existing Chapter VI-D, Refugee Resettlement Program: Cash Assistance, has been reorganized and rewritten to incorporate the Department's updated manual format and writing style.

In addition, the revised Refugee Cash Assistance (RCA) chapter incorporates FIP welfare reform changes from Manual Letter IV-Zero-20, dated September 21, 1993, that affect RCA policies.

Also, the following policy changes are made as a result of changes in federal regulations for the RCA program:

- ◆ A pregnant woman is exempt from work registration and other work and training requirements if her child is expected to be born in the month in which registration would otherwise be due or within the next six months. (Under the old policy, the exemption starts with the seventh month of pregnancy.)
- ◆ A parent or other caretaker relative with a child under age three who personally provides full-time care for the child is exempt from work registration and other work and training requirements. (Under the old policy, the exemption is granted for a child under age six.)
- ◆ The standards for work and training assignments are defined.
- ◆ The Bureau of Refugee Services must develop an individual employability plan for each employable refugee member in a family as part of a family self-sufficiency plan. The revised policy also defines criteria a refugee must meet under the plan and the consequences for failing to meet them.

Effective Date

The welfare reform changes incorporated from Manual Letter IV-Zero-20 are effective upon receipt.

Any new policies are effective October 1, 1995.

Implementation Instructions

Applicants

Apply the new policies to applications received on or after October 1, 1995.

Participants

1. As of October 1, 1995, parents with children age three and older are no longer exempt from work registration and other work and training requirements. These parents are subject to sanction if they fail or refuse to cooperate with work requirements.
2. Currently registered participants who start their fourth month of pregnancy on or after October 1, 1995, are exempt from the work registration and other work and training requirements. Therefore, do not enforce sanctions when pregnant participants who meet the new exemption policy fail or refuse to cooperate with these requirements.
3. The Bureau of Refugee Services will review participants' existing work and training plans and make revisions as deemed appropriate to meet the new requirements for an individual employability plan.

Desk Reviews Required

1. During the month of October 1995, complete desk reviews of existing cases to identify parents with children age three and older. If they are not already registered for work, issue form PA-2368-8, Refugee Referral to DES and to Refugee Services, with instructions for completion of the form, and refer these parents to DES and BRS. Parents with children age three and older who fail or refuse to cooperate on or after October 1, 1995, are subject to sanction.
2. Also review each case to identify participants who are in the fourth month of pregnancy or beyond as of October 1, 1995. These participants are not subject to sanction if they fail or refuse to cooperate with work registration or other work and training requirements on or after October 1, 1995.

Note: A participant in the fourth month of pregnancy or beyond who is in a conciliation period on October 1, 1995, is not subject to sanction due to the new exempt status. Thus, there is no need to continue the conciliation period. However, any sanction in effect on October 1, 1995, for a pregnant participant as described in the preceding paragraph remains in effect.

The Bureau of Refugee Services will send out notification to RCA participants that describe the policy changes contained in this general letter.

GENERAL LETTER NO. 6-D-26

ISSUED BY: Bureau of Family Investment, Division of Economic Assistance

SUBJECT: Employees' Manual, Title 6, Chapter D, Refugee Cash Assistance, Contents (page 2), revised; and page 35, revised.

Summary

Page 35 is revised to state that the new policies for intentional program violation in the Family Investment Program also apply to Refugee Cash Assistance.

Effective Date

These policies will become effective when the Bureau of Family Investment announces that system changes for an automated referral process are completed. See General Letter 4-M-1, dated October 22, 1996, for details.

GENERAL LETTER NO. 6-D-27

ISSUED BY: Bureau of Family Investment, Division of Economic Assistance

SUBJECT: Employees' Manual Title 6, Chapter D, Refugee Cash Assistance, Contents (page 1), revised; and pages 3, 4, 7, 8, 10, 11, 18, 19, 31, and 32, revised.

Summary

Eligibility for Refugee Cash Assistance (RCA) is largely based on FIP policies. When Iowa implemented FIP welfare reform October 1, 1993, the RCA program became subject to the welfare reform FIP policies, including the four-month exemption of earnings from new employment or self-employment (work transition period or WTP).

Effective October 1, 1997, FIP is discontinuing the WTP. Consequently, the WTP is also discontinued for the RCA program.

This general letter transmits the following changes:

- ◆ Reference to the work transition period (WTP) is removed.
- ◆ Reference to FIP control groups is removed.
- ◆ The exempt motor vehicle equity amount is updated to reflect the current limit.

Effective Date

The changes regarding the WTP are effective October 1, 1997. The remaining changes are effective upon receipt.

Special Instructions

Effective October 1, 1997, the WTP is eliminated. This means applicants or participants who start new employment or self-employment on October 1, 1997, or later will no longer have their earnings exempted for the first four months of work. As a result, they will be subject to monthly reporting like any other household that contains a member with countable earned income.

Applicants

Do not grant the WTP to, or exempt from monthly reporting, households who:

- ◆ Apply on or after October 1, 1997.
- ◆ Apply before October 1, but whose RCA is not approved until October 1 or later, when the new employment is obtained on or after October 1.

However, applicants who begin new employment or self-employment after the date of application but on or before September 30, 1997, can get the WTP (if otherwise eligible for it) and are exempt from monthly reporting for the first two months of work.

Participants

Do not grant the WTP to, or exempt from monthly reporting, participants who start new employment or self-employment on October 1, 1997, or later. However, participants who start new employment or self-employment on or before September 30, 1997, can get the WTP (if otherwise eligible for it) and are exempt from monthly reporting for the first two months of work.

GENERAL LETTER NO. 6-D-28

ISSUED BY: Bureau of Family Investment, Division of Economic Assistance

SUBJECT: Employees' Manual, Title 6, Chapter D, Refugee Cash Assistance, Contents (pages 1 and 2), revised; and pages 1 through 5, 15, 19, 22, 26, 27, 28, 30, and 35, revised.

Summary

This general letter transmits the following changes:

- ◆ FIP refugee aid types 31-0, 31-4 and 31-5 are eliminated. In the past, the state share of program costs for refugees who qualified for FIP was covered by federal funds from the Office of Refugee Resettlement (ORR) for the refugees' first four months in the country. To identify the ORR funding source, workers were required to use the 31-0 aid types on FIP refugee cases during the four-month period. At the end of the four-month period, workers replaced the special 31-0 aid types with the applicable 30-0 aid types as used on any other FIP case.
- ◆ Because ORR no longer funds refugees who are on FIP, there is no need to continue using the special aid type. Thus, instructions for use of the 31-0 aid type series are removed from the RCA manual (and also from 14-B-Appendix). Workers are instructed to use the regular 30-0 FIP aid type series as on any other FIP case.
- ◆ Legal references are updated.
- ◆ The terms "Employment Services" and "DES" are replaced with "Iowa Workforce Development" and "IWD," respectively.

Effective Date

Upon receipt.

Special Instructions

Do not use aid types 31-0, 31-4 or 31-5 when approving refugees for FIP assistance on or after receipt of this general letter.

Under previous instructions, workers tracked the four-month period of the 31-0 aid types via the tickler system. As was the practice in the past, workers are asked to replace these aid types on active FIP refugee cases with the applicable regular FIP aid type at the end of the four-month period.

Remember to use the 06-0 aid types for refugees eligible for cash assistance who do not qualify for FIP.

GENERAL LETTER NO. 6-D-29

ISSUED BY: Bureau of Family Investment, Division of Economic Assistance

SUBJECT: Employees' Manual, Title 6, Chapter D, REFUGEE CASH ASSISTANCE,
Contents (page 1), revised; pages 5 through 20 and 32 through 35, revised.

Summary

Revisions to this chapter:

- ◆ Redefine the “date of entry” for asylees as the date asylum is granted. To better serve asylees, the federal Office of Refugee Resettlement (ORR) has issued instructions that the “date of entry” for asylees is the date they are granted asylum and begins the eight-month RCA eligibility period.

The eight-month eligibility period for Refugee Cash Assistance (RCA) begins with the date the person enters the U.S. However, people seeking asylum cannot access RCA until they have actually been granted asylum.

Because of the time it generally takes the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) to process alien status adjustments, asylees are often prohibited from accessing RCA because the eight-month period from the date they entered the U.S. has expired by the time they are granted asylum.

February 15	–	date of entry
November 6	–	date asylum is granted

Under the new policy, November 6 is considered the “date of entry.” The eight-month RCA eligibility period is November through June. Under the old policy, the asylee would not have been able to access RCA because the eight-month period (February through September) would have expired September 30, before the date asylum was granted.

- ◆ Exempt as income and as a resource cash resettlement monies that sponsors or resettlement agencies may give directly to the refugee.

Resettlement agencies or sponsors provide one-time federal financial resettlement assistance when refugees first arrive in the U.S. to pay for immediate living expenses, such as housing, furniture, clothing, food, etc.

Most of the financial assistance is provided via vendor payments to landlords, stores, and other entities that provide goods or services to the refugee. The resettlement agency or sponsor may give a small amount of the resettlement funds directly to the refugee for personal items. Final federal ORR regulations require exemption of these monies.

- ◆ Update existing language to reflect current policy.

Effective Date

October 1, 2000.

Implementation Instructions

Revised Date of Entry for Asylees

For asylee applicants, use the new “date of entry” definition when processing RCA applications on or after October 1, 2000, even if the application date and the RCA effective date are before October 1.

For asylee participants, use the new definition effective with the October 2000 payment month. No desk reviews are required, because you should receive ticklers identifying refugees whose eight-month RCA period is nearing completion.

Do not cancel RCA for asylees whose current eight-month RCA period is based on the true date they entered the country and ends September 30, 2000, or later. Continue their RCA case as appropriate based on the new “entry” date (i.e., the date asylum was granted) not to exceed a total of eight months (if otherwise eligible).

The asylee entered the U.S. in February 2000. Asylum was granted May 14. The RCA application was received May 17 and approved effective May 24. Based on the February date of entry, the 8-month RCA period ends September 30. However, under the new policy, the asylee may continue to receive RCA through the month of December (if otherwise eligible).

Federal instructions are effective retroactive to June 15, 2000. If an asylee comes to your attention who was denied for or cancelled from RCA between June 15 and September 30, based on the previous policy, but whose eight-month RCA period from the date asylum was granted has not expired, refer the case to Central Office for consideration of an exception to policy. Follow the instructions in Employees’ Manual 1-B, EXCEPTIONS TO POLICY.

Exempting Cash Resettlement Monies

Financial resettlement assistance, whether in the form of payments to vendors or cash given directly to the refugee, is disbursed immediately upon the refugee's arrival in the U.S. Thus, any such cash payments affect only people applying for RCA.

When processing RCA applications on or after October 1, exempt cash resettlement monies when determining RCA eligibility and benefit amount beginning with the October payment month. Count cash resettlement monies in accordance with the policy on gifts when determining RCA eligibility and benefit amount for any payment month before October 2000.

SUBJECT: Employees' Manual, Title 6, Chapter D, REFUGEE CASH ASSISTANCE, Contents (page 1), revised; pages 5 and 6, revised; and pages 6a, 18a, and 18b, new.

Summary

This chapter is revised to include an additional "eligible alien" status. A person who is certified as a victim of trafficking by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services' Office of Refugee Resettlement is eligible for Refugee Cash Assistance (RCA) benefits to the same extent as a refugee.

The policy transmitted by this General Letter applies only to alien applicants who do not have another "eligible alien" status as required by the RCA program when the alien claims to be a "victim of trafficking." If a victim of trafficking obtains another "eligible alien" status, the new eligible alien status is to be used for determining eligibility for that person.

Approximately 50,000 women and children are trafficked into the U.S. each year (along with an unknown number of men). Traffickers force their victims into prostitution, slavery, and forced labor through coercion, threats of physical violence, psychological abuse, torture, and imprisonment. To deter these crimes, and to provide federal and state assistance to victims, the Trafficking Victims Protection Act was passed and signed into law in October 2000.

The Trafficking Victims Protection Act of 2000 names the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Office of Refugee Resettlement (ORR) as the only agency that has the authority to certify people as victims of trafficking. The Act provides that victims of trafficking, as certified by ORR, are eligible for public benefits and services to the same extent as refugees.

People who are certified by ORR as victims of trafficking qualify for assistance regardless of their immigration status. For the purpose of qualifying for RCA benefits, they are to be treated the same as refugees, even though they may not have a refugee immigration status.

ORR issues official certification letters to adult victims who are determined by that agency to be victims of trafficking. ORR issues similar letters for children who are determined to be victims of trafficking. The ORR certification letter is proof that the person to whom the letter is issued is eligible for RCA to the same extent as if the person has a refugee status. A person's status as a victim of trafficking does not extend eligibility for RCA beyond the eight-month limit.
